Numerous HealthHIV Abstracts Selected for American Public Health Association Annual Meeting

Four Presentations to be Delivered at World's Oldest and Largest Gathering of Public Health Professionals

WASHINGTON, DC – HealthHIV, one of the nation's largest HIV non-profits, will deliver four presentations at the American Public Health Association (APHA) 138th Annual Meeting & Expo in Denver, Colorado. The presentations focus on delivery of HIV services in racial/ethnically diverse, medically underserved communities and support those communities in developing sustainable, culturally competent HIV care.

"The response to HealthHIV's forward-thinking work is encouraging as we meet the challenges of an evolving HIV epidemic," said HealthHIV Executive Director Brian Hujdich. "We are excited to share our experience and perspective with the public health community and continue educating primary care providers on HIV-related topics."

HealthHIV will deliver an oral presentation, moderate a roundtable discussion, and present two posters at the November 6-10 meeting and expo. Topics are:

- Supporting HIV Primary Care Networks in Diverse Community Health Settings
- State of HIV Primary Care in Rural Settings
- Replicating a Peer-led Training Model for HIV Positive Women of Color
- Improving HIV Treatment Decisions Through an Interprofessional Care Model

The APHA Annual Meeting & Exposition attracts more than 13,000 national and international physicians, administrators, nurses, educators, researchers, epidemiologists, and related health specialists. APHA's meeting program addresses current and emerging health science, policy, and practice issues in an effort to prevent disease and promote health.
